SGA Activities

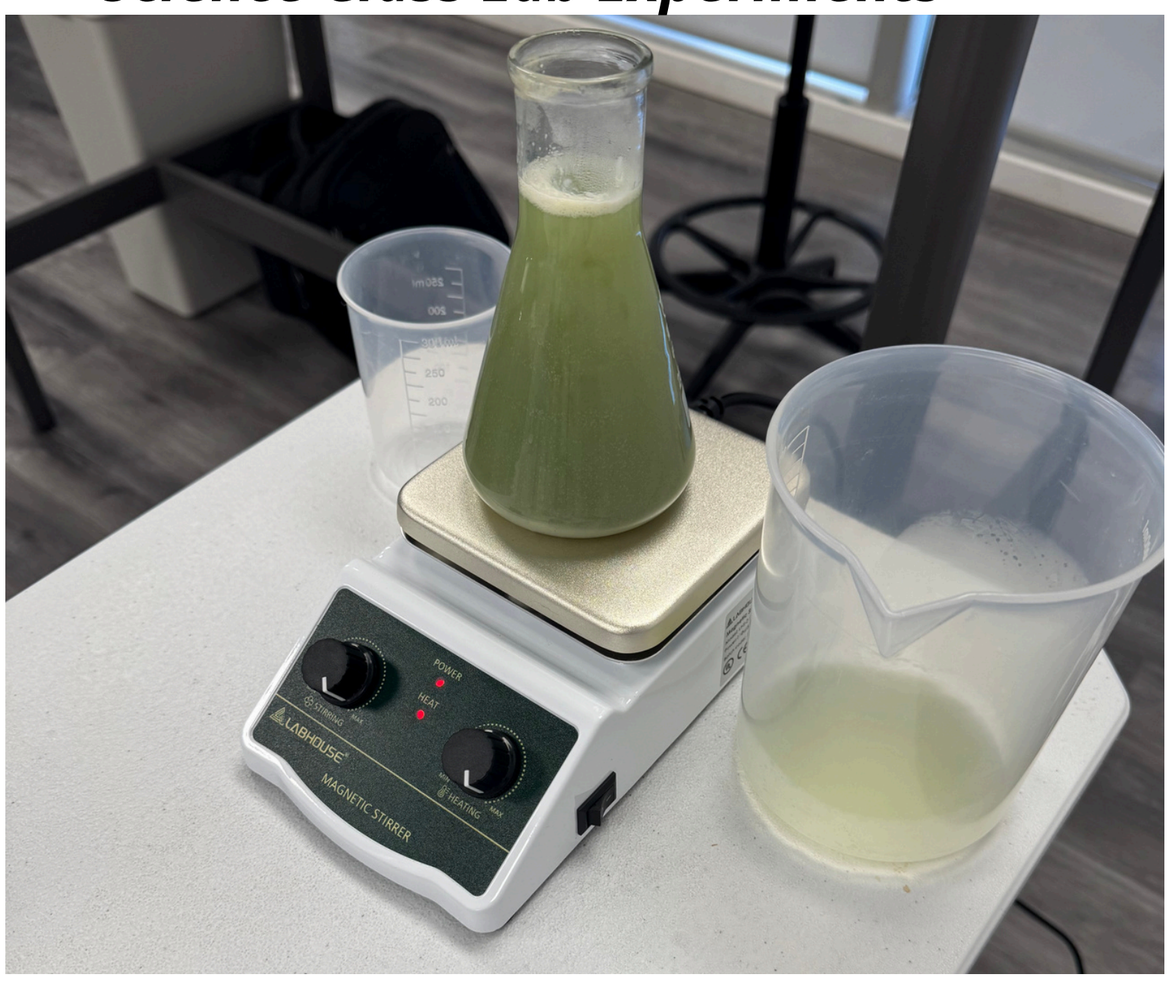

Halloween Party at SGA! Best Costumes & Pumpkin Carving Contest

St. George Academy High School came alive with Halloween spirit, creativity, and excitement! Our students enjoyed a spooktacular celebration featuring amazing costumes, a fun pumpkin carving contest, laughter, and unforgettable moments.

From creative designs to fantastic Halloween looks, everyone brought their best Halloween spirit. A wonderful day of friendship, fun, and school memories! SGA students with the best costumes and best carved pumpkins won valuable prizes at the end of the celebration.

Science Class Lab Experiments

In the exciting world of chemistry and biology, the students of SGA have engaged in a plethora of discoveries during their studies in SCH3U/4U and SBI3U/4U such as the exploration of Le Chatelier's Principle, where students observed the reversible and forward reactions between Milk of Magnesia and Vinegar. This was achieved by students freely mixing the two substances in a beaker after applying heat with a hot plate and pH indicator to assist in visibly seeing the production of hydrogen and hydroxide ions in real time with their teacher, Mr. Alex!

On the biological side of studies, students enjoyed extracting DNA of a strawberry by smashing them in plastic bags and treating them with a concoction dish detergent, ethanol, and salt to draw out a stringy, white strand of DNA! There was even a mini contest on who can extract the longest strand- who says a little competition can't be educational!

English Class at the Gibson Museum

Our ESL students stepped outside the classroom with Mrs. Mona for a visit to Gibson House Museum, where they explored life in the past and compared it with their lives today.

The trip brought our classroom discussions about technology, education, and communication into a new setting, giving students a chance to consider how everyday life has changed over time. It also offered opportunities to practise English, ask questions, and share observations with classmates. Learning about local history together made for a memorable day and helped students get to know the community beyond our school.
